Dear James,

Thank you so much for writing and sharing your concern about the "Unborn Victims of Violence Act of 2004." I hope you know how heartily I agree with you. It is clear to me that this act is part of a coordinated strategy to overturn Roe v. Wade and move toward establishing the Fundamentalist religious right's views as the law of the land.

Unfortunately, this issue was not selected by the General Assembly as one of the Actions of Immediate Witness for this year.

Fortunately, past General Assembly resolutions give us ample grounding for advocacy on this and related issues. We are a major participant in the Religious Coalition for Reproductive Choice and work diligently with other progressive religious communities to raise a liberal religious voice. This spring I led thousands of Unitarian Universalists at the March on Washington for Women's Lives.

Accept my apologies for the long delay in response. Trust that we continue hard at work.

In faith,
